

Matt Bosman

Director of Pre-Construction Services

Mr. Bosman has worked as an estimator in the construction field for 23 years with over 30 years in construction industry. Matt will lead and manage the preconstruction team to establish a clear and accurate project budget, schedule, logistics and phasing plan. Matt's primary responsibilities include preparation and presentation of fully transparent cost estimates at the primary milestones during the preconstruction process. Should the project fall outside the project budget constraints Matt will lead the effort and collaborate with both the owner and architect to establish a path back to the budget. Matt's preconstruction approach is one of collaboration and teamwork so that everyone's voice is heard and both Walker West and Locus Architects goals are met for the project.
